

Course Readings

TO SUPPORT UGME INSTRUCTION

Background

- Many UGME instructors and leads designate articles, book chapters or other learning materials as required or supplementary resources for students
- UBC Library coordinates these requests and ensures equitable access across university and hospital sites
- UGME librarians can help with a list of the current readings for your session/course, identifying online readings, options for readings not currently owned by the Library, etc.
- Please contact Kristina McDavid (kristina.mcdavid@ubc.ca) with any questions or to be connected with your local librarian

Transition to Online

- To improve accessibility, we are working toward online-only readings
- Online materials are licensed through UBC, and can be accessed by UBC students, faculty and staff from any location

UBC Library Access

- Faculty/staff with a current UBC appointment and UBC students are provided with a Campus-Wide Login (CWL), which enables UBC Library access (visit cwl.ubc.ca for more info)
- Students can access course readings directly via the Library Online Course Reserves (LOCR) application, which is linked from Entrada

Designating Course Readings

We will gladly accept any course reading requests and will work to obtain access for students. To guarantee availability, consider choosing readings that are already available through UBC Library's online collections.

1 IDENTIFY READINGS

- Please visit www.library.ubc.ca to search for readings
- If you are not finding what you need, please contact us!

2 CHECK AVAILABLE FORMATS

- If the Library has online access to the item you plan to recommend, we will be able to provide the link to students for access from any location
- If the Library owns a print copy only, we may be able to digitize the portion you need (in accordance with copyright guidelines)
- If the Library does not own the item you need, please contact us as soon as possible so we can look into options for obtaining it
